A New Era in Healthcare Management Education

A New Era in Healthcare Management Education Begins
Strategic Collaboration Between Doctorials Academy & HCMX Business School

In a landmark move set to redefine healthcare management education in India, Doctorials Academy has officially partnered with HCMX Business School to launch a next-generation PGDHM + PMP (Healthcare Management) program in a hybrid format.

This collaboration represents more than just a partnership – it is a vision-driven initiative to bridge the gap between medical education and real-world healthcare management practices. With a strong emphasis on practical exposure, case-based learning, and industry alignment, this program is designed to produce future-ready healthcare leaders.

The offline program will be conducted at the prestigious St. Pauls Campus, Bengaluru, offering students an immersive academic environment combined with real-world exposure. At the same time, Doctorials Academy continues to empower students nationwide through its flexible online learning model, ensuring accessibility and convenience for working professionals and students alike.
